DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

Figure 1 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: The specification lacks a reference on page 1 to the parent application.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 21 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Art Unit: 1764

Claim 21 is indefinite because it is dependent on canceled claim 1. The examiner notes that this claim is a process claim and was examined in parent application 08/591064. It appears as if it has been inadvertently retained in the present application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over admitted prior art in view of Deckman et al. (US 5,716,527) or Haag et al. (US 5,110,478).

Art Unit: 1764

Applicants admit that the apparatus illustrated by Figure 1 is conventional. This conventional apparatus comprises a paraxylene recovery unit and an isomerization unit. See pages 13 and 14 of the specification and Figure 1.

The admitted prior art apparatus does not include a zeolite membrane unit.

The Deckman reference discloses zeolite membranes and their use to separate paraxylene from mixtures of xylenes. The membranes may also be used to catalyze xylene isomerization. See column 8, lines 54-60 and column 11, line 66 through column 13, line 23.

Likewise, the Haag reference discloses zeolite membranes and their use in separating paraxylene from mixtures of xylenes. See column 2, lines 16-68; column 5, lines 28-38; and column 8, lines 7-16 and 45-48.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the admitted prior art apparatus by including a zeolite membrane unit as suggested by either Deckman or Haag because including such a unit would provide for additional separation of the desired product thereby improving the efficiency of the process that utilizes the apparatus.
